MONDAY'S PROGRAM

LAWRENCE COLLINS, Chairman

Speakers

DR. OSCAR BELL and
JUDGE STEPHEN UNDERWOOD

Subject

"SUPERCILIOUS SENSATIONS"

Music

Raymond Moremen, Chairman

COME ONE, COME ALL!

Ye men of Athens, cast your optics on the above chairman, one Lawrence Collins, and the speakers, Dr. Oscar Bell and Judge Stephen Underwood, the last named being the son of Hammurabi, and resolve to be at next Monday's meeting. "And the cares which infest the day, shall fold their tents like the Arabs, and as silently move away."

Well, anyway, Edgar Pritchard, having been appointed by Douglas Newcomb, the weekly program chairman, appointed Lawrence Collins, past president and secretary, who in turn appointed Dr. Bell and Judge Stephen. As Major Ed Dobbin so often states in the poetry of the army, it was "passing the buck."

Lawrence's reputation gained in the days when he directed for the benefit of the Exchangites the patent medicine performances lives with him and this is his opportunity to do his stuff. And when Lawrence jumps into action he takes Oscar along. And in order that the measure would be filled to overflowing, Steve was asked to participate.

Privately and officially, ye men of Athens, it will be a great occasion and we sincerely trust all those who have the ability to throw off their worries for an hour and a half will be with us—and if you cannot throw off your trouble, we will throw them off for you. It will be well worth your time to hear Dr. Bell and Judge Underwood speak on that great subject, "Supercilious Sensations," or "E Pluribus Unium Cum Dig."

To make a long story short a fat man lean, these gentlemen are requested to be there and up in front at the same time:

Asa Fickling, Oliver Peacock, Ed Dobbin, Jack Barton, John K. Hull and Judge Charles Wallace.

Therefore, ye candidates and those of the above named who have just been elected to office, if you are thin skinned, cover yourselves with calouses because when these eminent speakers discuss "Supercilious Sensations" persons of less stamina will start running for the woods.

"Hear me!"

THEREMIN TAKES THE CAKE

The Exchangites who heard our good friend Raymond Marsh, big boss of the Platt Music Co., operate the Theremin last Monday received the surprise of their young lives. It is a wonderful instrument and for Raymond to operate it with only five hours of practicing is nothing less than a phenomenon.

"It will be just a short time until this instrument has been added to our modern orchestras," Raymond declared. "Just a few of them have been manufactured by the Victor Company, the purpose in mind being to educate the public quite generally before they are put on the market in any quantities. This one is the only one in Long Beach, and having been associated actively in the music world for a number of years, I predict for it a great success."

Mr. Marsh was assisted by Prentiss Nibbelin, assistant manager of the Platt Music Co., and Miss Edith Vaughn, accompanist.

It was a splendid program, Raymond, and please accept our thanks for your fine co-operation.

PLEASED BE ADVISED

Gentlemen, you will pleased be advised that next Wednesday, May 28, at Poly-Hi, the Junior Exchangites will be expecting you—therefore, do not disappoint the juniors. Your names are written there and here, and here they are:

M. R. Johnston, Roy Orris and Ben Tompkins.

Musical Instrument Cousin to Radio. Is Exhibited to Club

A new musical instrument known as the theremin was demonstrated for the first time in Long Beach at a meeting of the Long Beach Exchange Club at the Virginia Hotel today. Raymond O. Marsh, manager of the Platt Music Company, assisted by P. N. Nibbelin and Miss Edith Vaughn, who accompanied at the piano, played. The instrument is operated by electricity, has a small aerial and is controlled without being touched. Anyone who can hum a tune can operate it. There are two oscillating circuits, which are controlled by moving the fingers near the aerial. The theremin was invented by a Russian Jew and perfected by the Victor Talking Machine Company.

District Governor C. C. Conklin introduced Frank R. Linnell, Long Beach Attorney, as a new member, and Lawrence Collins introduced Don Williams, former U. S. C. football star, now with Malcom Davis, as another new member. Rabbi Harvey Franklin was in charge of today's program.

Craft talks were given. Lewis N. Hindley spoke on Dr. John Grant, Ray Baldwin on J. D. Sherer and Dr. Raymond Cary on C. C. Lewis.
